

Host International Conference Calls and Collaborate Across Continents

aitelephone.com

Now you can easily host conference calls with geographically diverse participants

With today's global economy, businesses more than ever need an international collaboration tool. A service that enables international conference calls between associates, clients or a team regardless of where in the world those attendees may be located.

Shopping for the lowest rates is no longer enough. It's now essential that a conference call service be effective, reliable and economical. With 14 years experience and a roster of domestic and international clients, AIT guarantees you'll be pleased with the international conference call plan and it's many features.

This includes toll free access from 60 countries and 24 hour operator assistance. Many customers utilize the included free session recording feature that permits recording and download of MP3 files, included free of charge.

International Team Building

International conference calls can also be used to connect employees located around the world. While often used to coordinate projects and update one another with the latest sales figures and status reports, global conference calls are important in building a culture of teamwork.

Being able to interact with the group, hear voice inflections, and build rapport helps employees who might otherwise feel disenfranchised engage with the team on a more personal level.

Guaranteed 24 hour USA based operator assistance

This type of support is universally appreciated. All of our operators are actually located at our U.S. conference bridge facility. This enables immediate solutions to any issues a customer may have. There's never a need to 'escalate' a call to another level nor will a customer be referred to "leave a message for a return call later on". A 24 hour customer service Toll Free phone number is emailed to new customers along with account information and user guide.

Set up conference calls 2 ways

- Send your participant a permanent Toll Free Access number to dial from their country.
- Optionally, dial-out to international participants through our bridge. Dial-out is a necessary feature for participants located in countries without toll free access or that cannot access toll free numbers.

A 'pay as you go' plan, no prepayments

- Toll Free access points in 60 countries
- No activation or start up fees
- No monthly fees
- No monthly minimum usage requirements
- No contract term

Utilize a variety of additional high touch operator services.

AIT provides conference call services that offer more bang for the buck, superb connection quality, low international conference call rates, and for activated accounts, the best 24 hour customer service in the industry.
