Own and Control an Ireland Phone Number

Ireland Virtual Phone Number Provides a Direct Connection to the Ireland marketplace or your associates and family located in Ireland.

Although Ireland has an advanced telecom sector, none of the Ireland telephone companies (PTT) permit call forwarding beyond the Ireland border.

Our service provides a solution to the international call forwarding requirement from Ireland and assists you to own an Ireland phone number with global call forwarding capabilities.

According to Budde.com, Ireland's telecom market has emerged from a long period in which it had been held back by low broadband uptake and a poor economic climate which hindered investment among operators as well as spending among consumers.

The country during the last two years has recorded one of the highest GDP growth rates within the European Union (EU), and this has reinvigorated the telecom sector. Operators including eir, enet and Vodafone Ireland (in cooperation with the utility ESB) have extensive fibre-based networks deployments in pace aimed at providing 1Gb/s services, while the government is poised to award a contract as part of its National Broadband Plan by which all premises are expected to receive a service of at least 30Mb/s by 2022.
